

MID-WINTER MARDI GRAS AT TINLEY

FREAK STORM HITS THIS AREA;
MORE SNOW DUE AND COLDER

The weather in this part of the country went on a rampage Wednesday afternoon, when rain, sleet, snow, wind thunder and lightning were all in order.

Sleet had fallen late Tuesday evening and all night and by Wednesday morning the roads were slick and dangerous for driving. The sleet kept up all day, and about 5 p.m. Wednesday there was enough accumulated on the telephone and electric wires which caused them to break. Mokena, Frankfort, and New Lenox were without power and lights in many places. At the News-Bulletin office there was no power or lights from 5 o'clock until 10 Wednesday evening. A large branch of a large tree in the rear of the building broke off at the rear door and hung on a telephone wire which the fall had torn loose from the building. The Public Service had every available man out working all night. It was trying work as later in the evening the lightning and thunder was strong and made repairing work that much harder.

At New Lenox all the telephone poles and wires on north Cedar Road from Francis street north to Maple Street were blown down.

During the storm Wednesday evening the New Lenox Vol. Fire Department was called to the home of Walter Reiter on Cedar Road, to extinguish a chimney fire. No damage resulted.

Every available emergency repair crew of the entire Public Service Company of Northern Illinois worked feverishly throughout Wednesday night and Thursday morning restoring electric service in the area of Mokena and a score of other communities hardest hit by the freak storm Wednesday.

Over 200 linemen were dispatched to worst hit areas where transmission and distribution wires were downed or shorted by ice and high wind.

While scattered power interruptions occurred throughout the utility's 6,200 square mile service area, the storm wrought most havoc in the Illinois River area from Joliet and Kankakee through Morris, Pontiac, Streator and on toward Lacon, Chillicothe and Wyoming, according to Geo. F. Bartling, Assistant district superintendent.

Despite disruption of communications which slowed reports of power outages and hampered repair crews, electric service generally was restored throughout the area by noon Thursday. Service was still out, however, in a number of isolated cases and George Bailey, southern division vice president said it would take another 24 to 48 hours for workmen to get the last light back on.

Bailey said the storm was among the worst in recent years and one of the most difficult with which to cope.

"Despite the fact that thousands of telephones were also out due to the storm, we received 3,000 trouble calls up to 9:00 o'clock Thursday A.M.," he said. "Sleet and snow coupled with wind velocities which at times reached 50 and 60 miles per hour made working conditions among the worst ever faced by our repair crews. In many areas power lines were covered with nearly two inches of ice. Every available man is still on the job and we are getting service back on just as fast as is humanly possible."

Bailey said he couldn't begin to estimate the cost of the storm damage yet but that it was "considerable."

ST. GEORGE AND THE DRAGON TO BE AT MENS DANCE

But don't be alarmed because both St. George and the dragon are made of white crocheted yarn and are confined to a beautiful tablecloth which will be awarded as first prize the night of the St. George Men's Club Dance, Saturday evening, February 8 at Saenger Hall. This is the first time we have been able to offer a pure white tablecloth and it has taken the fancy of a great many ladies from Tinley Park.

It is the gift to the church of Mrs. Jim English whose sister made it. All who have been fortunate enough to examine it at first hand have told us that this particular pattern requires about an hour for each row of stitching. In addition to its great beauty, the tablecloth is a prize of workmanship.

This is the same dance where the doorprize will be a bowling ball and carrying bag and if any of the committee in charge of arrangements had been aware of the rivalry over such an award, we might have hesitated to present it. Of course, it is well known that Tinley Park has some of the best bowlers in the country, and certainly the most avid, but after all folks, bribery and coercion! Well! But someone will be happy that night and will probably practice until we don't stand a chance.

Doorprize, award, "White Elephant" ham sandwiches, homemade bismarks and doughnuts, fine orchestra. All that at one dance? Yes sir, the St. George Men's Club Dance, Saturday, Feb. 8 at Saenger Hall, Tinley Park.

WILL COUNTY HEALTH
DEPARTMENT NEWS

The radio broadcast of the Will County Health Department over WJOL Joliet, on Friday morning January 31 at 10:15, will be on "Smouldering Fires."

Since slim figures have become the mode the old proverb "laugh and grow fat" should be revised to "laugh and grow healthy". Laughter is an important adjunct to mental hygiene as laughter is one of the few contagious affections that are beneficial. Cheerfulness, as well as gloom, is catching.

Dr. Cecil A. Z. Sharp, County Health Officer, states that health is seriously endangered and illness definitely encouraged in the individual who gives way to passions of hate, worry, fear and envy.

The Will County Health Department was selected by the State Department of Public Health, Springfield, Ill., for Miss Lydia Reitz the new State Educational Director of the Division of Public Health Nursing, to observe public health activities as carried on in a county health department. Miss Reitz will spend three weeks with the local department.

MOTHER OF TINLEY MERCHANT
DIED MONDAY AT AGE OF 94

Mrs. Mathilda Vogt, mother of Dr. Henry Vogt, owner of the Vogt Department store in Tinley Park, passed away in her home

Monday Jan. 27. Mrs. Vogt has enjoyed remarkably good health, according to her years. About three weeks ago she began not feeling as well as usual, but was only confined to bed for about two days, the end coming peacefully while in sleep.

Since the death of her husband in 1932, she has lived alone in the lower flat of the Vogt building, her son Henry and family living in the upper flat, the latter caring for her in every detail. She did her own housework and was most happy when so doing. She was a kind and inspiring mother who will be greatly missed by her family.

Mrs. Vogt was born June 7, 1852 on a farm about three miles south of the village of Tinley Park, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wille, and has lived all her life in Tinley Park and vicinity.

August 28, 1874 she was united in marriage with Mr. Henry Vogt, who had established a general store in Tinley Park across the street from the present store, in 1872. The present store was built in 1886. To them were born ten children, four of whom died in infancy and a daughter Johanna Nielsen who died eight years ago.

Surviving are four daughters: Mrs. Henrietta Funk of Chicago, Mrs. Louise Lorenz and Mrs. Catherine Fulton of Tinley Park and Mrs. Rose Grosskopf of Blue Island and one son Henry; eleven grand children and nine great grand children.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon in the Zion Lutheran church in Tinley Park with Rev. Albert Buddenhagen officiating. Burial was made in the Lutheran cemetery.

SHORTAGE OF STEEL EFFECTS PRODUCTION OF FARM MACHINERY

The amount of farm machinery produced in 1947 will again be largely determined by the amount of steel made available to the farm machinery industry. The National Retail Farm Equipment Association has asked all implement dealers and farmers to cooperate in a continuous drive for iron and steel scrap, which is still urgently needed by the foundries and mills. Foundries are especially short of cast iron scrap. In the past, the farms have been one of the most prolific sources of cast iron, and large quantities of it still remain on farms thruout the country.

With the decontrol of prices, the market for both cast iron and steel scrap is most favorable and scrap dealers are anxious to purchase any and all grades in unlimited quantities. By placing scrap into material supply lines now farmers can get top prices, and at the same time help the farm machinery industry turn out the implements desired to replace those worn out during war time.

As members of the National Retail Farm Equipment Association, the firm of Mancke and Radcliffe, the John Deere Store in Tinley Park, is sponsoring a local scrap drive among farmers. If you have some scrap to sell, just phone one of the local scrap dealers and they will be glad to pick it up. If you do not know a scrap dealer, phone the Mancke and Radcliffe store in Tinley Park 631, and they will turn your name over to a local dealer who will call on you.

HOME OF TOMORROW FOR TODAY . . . How awning windows lend distinction to the modern home is shown in this attractive example of the modern home. Originally favored in the South, use of awning windows has spread rapidly to all parts of the country. Interior views of the modern home, as shown above, are part of display of the Association of Home Builders exposition at Chicago. Prospective homeowners are demanding cabinet showers in the house of tomorrow for today.

LARGEST IRRIGATION DEVELOPMENT . . . Columbia Basin project in Eastern Washington is taking shape. This is an artist's impression of how some of the structures in the vicinity of Coulee City will appear when completed. Stretching for nearly two miles across the famed Upper Grand Coulee is the South Coulee dam, which will help form a 27-mile reservoir for the million-acre irrigation development. The dam will carry U. S. Highway 10-A across its top. The land will be farmed by 12,000 to 15,000 families, veterans and others.

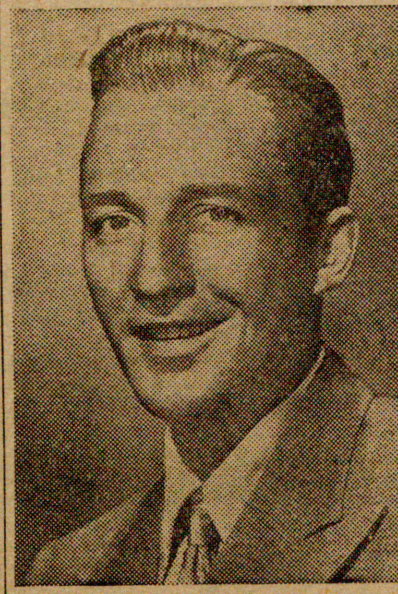

SAVES SISTER . . . Running out of her home in Orange, N. J., when she heard her mother scream, "Fire," Margaret Boccino, 7, realized that her sister, Angelina, 14 months, was still inside. Margaret rushed back to the first floor, where the flames were spreading, saved the baby. She is demonstrating here how she saved her sister—what apparently does not appreciate either the demonstration or the photographer.

THEY LABOR FOR LOVE . . . Two lovely ladies, Ethel Hester, left, Washington, D. C., and Mary Haddox, Moundsville, W. Va., labor for love each and every day at the capitol and are being paid for it. The girls, by the way, are secretaries to new Republican congressman, Francis J. Love, center, of West Virginia. Both girls plan to make their jobs career jobs and are hard at work discovering—or trying to—makes politicians.

Veterans' Dental Care

Dental service provided for veterans with service-connected disabilities by Veterans' administration amounted to approximately $1,950,000 as of November 30, and of this amount $1,759,000 was paid to participating dentists on a fee basis. Applications for treatments increased to 207,000 at the end of November.

Home town dental care for these veterans with service-connected disabilities now is available in all the 48 states, according to VA, and the fee schedule for participating dentists was set by VA in cooperation with American Dental Association. Each state contract was negotiated separately by the state dental society and the VA branch offices having jurisdiction over that state and participating dentists are nominated by the state society and approved by VA branch offices.

As of December 4, there were 99,055 veterans in VA hospitals; 600,000 veterans have applied for G.I. loans amounting to almost $3,000,000,000; approximately 5,675,000 National Service Life Insurance policies were in force as of November 30 and their total insurance value was approximately $35,000,000,000.

Questions and Answers

Q. Can a World War I widow get a pension for an adopted baby? This is a grandchild of the World War I veteran. He has been dead 18 months and his widow adopted their grandchild and can she get a pension for it too?—Widow, Dalton, Ga.

A. If the child is legally adopted, such children come under the same status as other dependent children and, if the child is a minor, he should be eligible for pension.

Q. My son was drafted in the army January 25, 1944. He took out an $18.75 war bond each month and had them made out to me. I received them regularly up until December, 1945, and haven't received one since. The boy is still in Japan. I would like to know what to do about it.—Mother, Livingston, Ky.

A. If the money is still being deducted from his pay for the purchase of the bonds, you should continue to receive them. Since you are not, write to the Central Field fiscal office, U. S. Army, Chief of Finance, 4300 Goodfellow blvd., St. Louis 2, Mo., giving your son's full name, serial number and where, if you know, he authorized the money to be deducted from his pay.

Q. I was discharged from the WAVES on October 17, 1945. I had quite a lot of dental work done during February and March of 1946. Now I have been told by an ex-soldier that the government paid for his dental work because he had it done before he was discharged. My question is whether I am eligible for this. I have been discharged for over a year, but the work was done and the bill paid by myself just a few months after I was discharged. The dental work was necessary and urgent as the x-rays will testify.—Mrs. R. E. H., Melstone, Mont.

A. Veterans with service-connected disabilities are eligible for free dental work from Veterans' administration. Both the army and navy provided dental care and treatment for members of the armed forces. However, if you obtained your dental work after your discharge, I do not believe you are eligible for reimbursement by the government if you have no service-connected disability.

Q. I have a husband in Manila and he said he would give me a divorce. When I sent him the papers he refused to sign them and he hasn't supported me since. Can I get a divorce without sending him the papers?—M. D. K., Adolphus, Ky.

A. You should consult an attorney.

Q. I want to know if my husband can get a divorce while in the army and where can I get this information or the papers concerning this? Mrs. J. L. H., St. Louis, Mo.

A. Your husband has the same legal rights in the army as he has as a civilian. Should such a case be filed, you will be notified in the manner prescribed by the law.

Q. I am writing in regard to my terminal leave pay. I filed my application in or around August, 1946, and as yet I have not received a notice or check or my discharge papers. Can you tell me if it has been sent to me? I am a veteran of World War II and served 2 years and 18 days.—R. B., Rochester, N. Y.

A. Generally speaking, terminal leave checks or bonds are mailed about 60 days after application. In your case, suggest you write to the same office to which you sent your application and ask the reason for the delay may be a normal one.

Packing a Salad

In packing a vegetable salad, place two tablespoons of salad dressing in the bottom of the container. Place the cut up greens and vegetables on top of the dressing. Cover tightly, and pack right side up in the lunch box. When the child is ready for lunch, he can turn the container upside down and allow it to stand a few minutes while the dressing runs through the salad. After he turns it right side up, opens it, and gives one stir, he has a tossed salad ready to eat.

October Chrysanthemums

The October flowering types of chrysanthemums are best for late autumn bloom. Buds are caught by freezing about one year out of three. If planted along the south side of a house, garage, or fence, they often last until Thanksgiving. When freezing weather approaches, remaining buds can be broken off and taken indoors to open. If placed in large pails of water and kept cool, all buds will open.

Tears of Heliades

Early legends which accounted for the origin of amber sound fantastic to modern ears. The best known, that given in Greek mythology, is that amber is the tears of the Heliades. The Heliades were the sisters of Phaeton who after Phaeton's disastrous attempt at driving the sun's chariot were changed into poplar trees which ever since continually weep tears of amber.

Oil Scissors

Oil the shears and scissors every six months. Put a drop of sewing machine oil on both sides of the screw that holds the blades together. Always wipe them before and after using to keep them free of dust, but if rust or dark spots do appear, rub off the roughness with fine sandpaper and steel wool and apply a little oil.

Diamond State

"Diamond State" was given as a nickname to Delaware, according to some sources, because it is small in size but great in importance, while others claim the name has reference to the shape of the state.

'Double 85' Treatment

After digging, start the curing of the promising sweet potatoes by giving them the "double 85" treatment. The "double 85" treatment consists of preliminary holding for six to eight days at 85 degrees and 85 per cent humidity. Prompt curing brings about changes that make the potatoes more resistant to storage disorders for as long as six to eight months. Storage temperature following curing should be 55 to 60 degrees.

Amber Formed Long Ago

Amber has been prized from time immemorial for its delicate color, its translucency, and its soft, pleasing luster. It is classed with the semi-precious stones although it is not a stone but a fossil resin of vegetable origin. This resin exuded from now extinct species of pines which grew in Lower Oligocene time, 35 million years ago, much as the "spruce gum" chewed by country children exudes from the spruce.

Use left-over mashed potatoes to line the sides of a baking dish for a meat pie. Fill the center with well-seasoned stew of vegetable and left-over bits of meat or fish. Cover the top with mashed potatoes. Bake in a hot oven until the pie is hot through and browned lightly on top. Make only the upper crust if you have a small portion of mashed potatoes.

Drying Tumblers

For drying tumblers, towels should be long enough to wipe both the inside and outside at the same time and to cover the hands so that no finger prints are left on the glass. A towel at least 28 inches long after shrinking fulfills this requirement even for tall lemonade or iced tea glasses used so much in the summer.

Poor Storage

The more common causes of short storage life of sweet potatoes are black rot, improper handling, chilling before curing, wrong storage temperatures, unfavorable growing conditions just before dig-

Cub Scout News

The monthly meeting of the Tinley Park Cub Pack No. 55 was held Saturday, Jan. 25 in the PTA room of the Tinley Park school. The theme for the month was "The World of Tomorrow".

The many models of Jet planes and other items attested the boys' keen grasp of things of the future. Robert Bolt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bolt of Den 4, won the 5 ft. Government Rayon target kite by making a Futuristic Museum model. Skits of life ahead were put on by Cubs in Dens 2 and 4.

We welcomed a new Den Chief in Den 2 Peter Ortega, of Scout troop 55. He has already shown a great interest in Cub work and bids fair to be quite a competitive factor in later Pack projects. Seven boys of Den 3, James Bagby, Elmer Dull, James Fremder, Elmer Ginter, Jerry Hug; David Hutchinson and James Rader completed their Wolf rank achievements and received their badges.

Paul Lumbert of Den 4, who recently qualified for Bear rank, received the Gold and Silver Arrows for that award.

February being the Birthday anniversary of the Scout and Cub organizations, as well as the birth month of many famous Americans, the theme will be skits on plays featuring the life of one of them. The February Pack meeting will be held in the Village Hall Feb. 22 featuring the Cub birthday party, of cake, cookies, and ice cream to be furnished potluck style by the Cub parents.

National Boat Show February 1st to 9th

Chicago's long established National Boat Show will return to Navy Pier February 1 to 9 inclusive, it was announced by Hubbard Erickson, founder and manager of the exposition.

More than 100 exhibitors have already been allotted space, he said, and the greatest variety of all types of pleasure craft and accessories in the show's history will be on display.

The Chicago Boat Show has been an annual event since 1929 except for three war years. The war, which limited this area's thousands of fresh water sailors' supply of boats and equipment, will bring them this season its war born developments in boats, marine engines and nautical equipment.

Exhibits will range from huge cabin cruisers to car-top canoes, along with all the necessary gear, and the latest innovations in aids to the yachtman or boat owner. The opening ceremonies, Saturday, February 1, will see ROTC medal men of Chicago high schools at the show.

Co-operating organizations participating in the '47 Boat Show include the Lake Michigan Yachting Association, the Great Lakes Cruising Club, the Nautical Research and Model Society, the Central Marine Chamber of Commerce and the Outboard Boating Clubs of America.

Erickson pointed out the great advantage of the Naby Pier exposition space is the fact that only two aisles, each extending the entire length of the hall, will carry all the spectator traffic, so that the public will be comfortably accommodated in viewing the exhibits.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam Hackney Reports on the U.S.A.

Sam Hackney and the missus just returned from a trailer trip around the country. They're tired, and glad to be home, but mighty impressed with what they saw.

As Sam reports—every section has something different; a different way of talking; different tastes in food and drink; different laws and customs. But bigger than all these differences is the American spirit of tolerance that lets us live together in united peace.

"Of course," says Sam, "you run into intolerance from time to time. Individuals who criticize another's right to speak his mind; enjoy a glass of beer; or work at any trade he chooses. But those are the exceptions—and we're even tolerant of them!"

From where I sit, more of us ought to make a trip like the Hackneys—to realize firsthand how America is bigger than its many differences...how tolerance of those differences is the very thing that makes us strong.

Household Hints

To prevent a cork from sticking in a glue bottle, dip it in oil. It will then slip out easily with no effort.

Grease two or three inches up the inside of the pot in which you are boiling rice, noodles or spaghetti, and the water won't boil over.

Throw an old potato sack or two in the car trunk. Excellent to place under the rear wheels when stuck on an icy spot.

When wiping windows, use vertical strokes on the inside and horizontal strokes on the outside. This enables you to see at a glance which side must be wiped again.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—is a risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up at night, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

'DON'T GET UPSET'

Soaring Winter Accident Toll Sparks Plea for Safe Driving

WNU Features.

CHICAGO.—When pelting snow and treacherous ice clog the highways, "don't get upset." That is the plea of National Safety Council in its campaign to reduce the hazards of winter driving.

On an average, two-thirds of the cold weather mishaps last winter occurred on snowy or icy roads, it is revealed in a special study of winter traffic accidents recently completed by four typical snow-belt states in co-operation with the safety council. States making the special analysis were Connecticut, Indiana, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

This fact, combined with the knowledge that traffic death rates in the northern half of the United States increase from 24 to 53 per cent in winter as compared with summer, prove the need for greater driver caution in winter months, the council said.

Mishaps Increase.
Inadequate traction and poor visibility are the special hazards which send winter accident rates soaring, according to Prof. Ralph A. Moyer of Iowa State college, chairman of the council's committee on winter driving hazards.

Moyer recommends that vehicles which must be operated under severe snow and ice conditions be equipped with tire chains and devices to aid visibility, such as windshield wipers, defrosters or frost shields and good lighting equipment.

"Modern methods of distribution, vital to our economy, require that commercial vehicles and many passenger cars operate in all kinds of weather," he said, "and the amount of such traffic is increasing. The greater the number of vehicles on the road the more need there is for improved winter road maintenance, safety equipment for the vehicles, and extra care on the part of drivers."

Lists Driving Rules.

He urged drivers to follow these rules, which are based on actual winter driving tests on frozen Michigan lakes:

DON'T SKID YOURSELF!

Braking Distances on Various Surfaces at 20 mph

1. When starting out, get the "feel" of the road by lightly applying brakes while driving slowly and when no other vehicles are near.

2. Reduce your speed so that you can stop in time in an emergency. Ice may be found on bridges or on shaded sections of an otherwise clear road surface.

3. Don't jam on your brakes suddenly. Apply them lightly and intermittently to avoid a skid.

4. Keep windshield clear of snow and ice outside, fog and frost inside.

5. Use tire chains on ice and snow. They may reduce braking distance as much as 40 or 50 per cent and provide needed "go" traction.

6. Synthetic rubber tires, equal or better than natural rubber in many respects, do not provide quite as much stop-and-go traction on snow or ice.

7. Remember days are short. Plan your trip for as much daylight driving as possible.

8. Deflating or "softening" tires will not add to your safety, and it will cause excessive tire wear.

9. Beware of carbon monoxide gas. Never warm up a car in a closed garage, and check exhaust system, floor boards and manifold-type heaters for leaks.

Majority of War Veterans Finding Jobs or in School

WASHINGTON.—Of the 13,030,000 men veterans discharged during the last 16 months, only 700,000 are listed as unemployed, according to a labor department survey of veterans' status. An additional 550,000 are listed as on vacation, unable to work or retired.

Nearly 12 million of the veterans now are employed, in training, or in school or college, the survey discloses. Of this number, 1,100,000 men veterans of World War II are enrolled in educational institutions.

Two major tasks for the future are emphasized in the report. The first is to find better jobs for many veterans who have demonstrated a desire for jobs with advancement. The other is to find jobs for the student veterans as they are graduated.

Woman Has Studied All School's Courses

PITTSBURGH, PA.—School bells still ring for Mrs. Margaret Dick, 62. When she moved to Pittsburgh from New Jersey 29 years ago, Mrs. Dick longed for new friends and, at her husband's suggestion, she enrolled in night school.

A student ever since, Mrs. Dick has exhausted the curricula of two night schools. She has studied bookkeeping, chemistry, dressmaking, cooking, public speaking, millinery and commercial law.

Vet Quotes Bible in Plea to Truman

HAWTHORNE, N. J.—By quoting the Bible, Charles Quatt, former soldier, hopes to enlist the aid of President Truman in getting his German bride, whom he married secretly in 1945 in Regensburg, Bavaria, into this country.

"I put it up to you, Mr. President," Quatt said he wrote. "Did I do anything that was not correct according to any concept of morals, common sense or the Holy Bible. . . .

Talk About Your Operation? Now Movie Shows It

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—No longer do you need to grope for words to describe your latest operation. Just have it photographed—even in technicolor, if you like.

W. Branks Stewart of New Orleans earns his living photographing operations. He'll do movies, stills or even paintings of your appendix.

Of course, Stewart does most of his work for doctors and for Louisiana State university medical school, where he works. If a surgeon finds something different in an operative case, he places a hurry call for Stewart, who photographs or sketches the operation. Sometimes doctors want new techniques recorded by the movie camera.

Stewart has all types of weird looking equipment to do his work. One of the special cameras takes a stereoscopic picture of the human eye. Another is a photomicrography instrument which takes pictures through a microscope.

Real Salesman

ROBINSON, ILL.—Marley Harrison reversed the usual procedure when he left the hospital after an operation and presented it with a bill. An appliance dealer, he used the time while he was recuperating to talk the staff into buying a deep freeze unit.

Sportlight

THE question has come up concerning the comparative value, merit and skill required in playing shortstop or second base. We put the problem up to Frankie Frisch, one of the greatest second basemen and one of the best all-around ball players in the annals of the game, also one of the smartest.

"Why is it," we asked the slightly graying Flash from Fordham, the Giants and the Cardinals on the playing side, "that there are so many star second basemen and so few outstanding shortstops?"

"Just how do you figure that out?" Frisch asked.

"Look over the list," we suggested. "At second we have Nap Lajoie, Eddie Collins, Rogers Hornsby, Frank Frisch, Charlie Gehringer, Johnny Evers—to mention only a few. There are still arguments as to which one of these is the greatest. But when you come to shortstops you reach out for a fellow named Honus Wagner—and you stop. Travis Jackson, Marty Marion, Beauty Bancroft, a few more—but not outstanding. Only Wagner."

"There are two answers to that," Frisch replied. "In the first place, Wagner was Wagner. A great shortstop—the greatest. He led his league seven years at bat. He could steal 50 or 60 bases a year. He could do everything. You may remember that John McGraw, before his death, ranked Wagner as the greatest ball player of all time. Over Cobb and Ruth. So does Ed Barrow. These two are not palookas. But I'll have to admit that outside of Wagner, while there have been fine shortstops, the game hasn't shown many great ones."

More Speed, Skill Needed
"One reason for this is that shortstop is a tougher job than second base is. You have to cover more ground. You need more speed and a better arm. You may have to throw from short left, on the grass, to first base—a longer throw than the third baseman has to make. But just why it is that no shortstop, outside of Wagner, could hit to match Lajoie, Collins, Gehringer, Hornsby and others, I couldn't tell you. There haven't been many hard-hitting shortstops who could hand you .340 or .350. Maybe they were too busy trying to cover all that ground."

"What about third base?" I asked Frisch. "Not as tough as short, not as tough as second. Less ground to cover."

Frisch couldn't go back quite far enough to cover all the great third basemen: Art Devlin of the Giants, Jimmy Collins of Boston, Bill Bradley of Cleveland and Buck Weaver of the White Sox—four of the greatest.

"What's the matter with Pie Traynor?" he asked. "Pie belongs with any third baseman." This is true. But there have been more good third basemen, for all-around value, than great shortstops. The same applies to first base. You can get arguments today over Hal Chase, George Sisler, Lou Gehrig, Frank Chance, Bill Terry and one or two others.

Must Be Heavy Hitter
"A first baseman has to hit," Frisch said. "Maybe Chase was the greatest fielding first baseman. But he couldn't hit with Sisler, Gehrig or Terry. A first baseman should be a power on attack. Of course, it helps when he also can field his job. Stuffy McInnis wasn't bad. He could cover that bag and still hit over .300. Stuffy was a great first baseman. And Glen Wright was a great shortstop," Frisch added.

Having Frisch finally loosened up, we put on the pressure. "If you had to win one big game, a game you had to win, who would you pick to pitch it? Carl Hubbell or Dizzy Dean?"

Frisch lost no time in answering this one. "What difference would it make? Both would pitch shut-outs if the blue chips were down. I mean at their peak. Just give me a shut-out and I'll promise that I won't lose, even if I have to take a tie. You know one of the great things about Hubbell? He never gave you a pitch that you had hit before. If you got the same hit off Dean, Dizzy would come back with the same pitch and probably strike you out. Of course, Hubbell had a longer and therefore a greater career. He was one of the greats of all time. But in 1934 and 1935, before he hurt his arm, there never was a greater pitcher than Dizzy Dean. Just give me either one."

A Better Racing Year
For the first time in a good many years, I think it would be safe to say that this year there will be bigger and better racing, and in saying that not to be thinking of mutual play and the breaking of financial records. It seems probable to me that the handle will be down again this year, that the wild spending days are over for some time to come. I am thinking of better horses and jockeys, sounder track management, and a more sporting attitude.

This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Wonderful

No Cooking. So Easy. Saves Dollars.

To get the most surprising relief from coughs due to colds, you can easily prepare a medicine, right in your own kitchen. It's very easy—a child could do it—needs no cooking, and tastes so good that children take it willingly. But you'll say it's hard to beat for quick results.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, and pour it into a pint bottle. Fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of really splendid cough syrup—about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and lasts a long time.

And it gives quick relief. It acts in three ways—loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.
